LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

The LIBRARIAN OF CONGRESS:

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith a Check List of the American Newspapers in the Library of Congress, geographically arranged, revised, and brought down to the close of the nineteenth century. This Check List is compiled from the manuscript of an extensive annotated catalogue of the same papers which has been in course of preparation in the periodical division during the past three years, and which is now being revised to include all papers received to and including the 31st of December, 1900.

Respectfully,

ALLAN B. SLAUSON,
Chief of Periodical Division.

MAY 15, 1901.

INTRODUCTION.

The check list here presented has been arranged by States and cities. Under each city the arrangement is alphabetical, but in selecting the word in the title which is to determine the alphabetical position choice has been made of the word most closely descriptive in common usage. This word, the surname, as it were, of the paper, has been printed in small capitals, thus:

Huntsville.

Huntsville ADVOCATE.
The DEMOCRAT.
Huntsville GAZETTE.
Alabama REPUBLICAN.

According to the practice heretofore the "Alabama Republican" would precede the other three titles. It would do so, for instance, in the list published by the State Historical Society of Wisconsin. In the latter "The American Daily Advertiser" appears thus:

Claypoole's American Daily Advertiser.
Continued as Poulson's, etc.
(Two other titles intervene.)
Dunlap's American Daily Advertiser.
Continued as Claypoole's, etc.
(Fifty other titles intervene, several pages.)
Poulson's American Daily Advertiser.

In the Library of Congress list it appears thus:

Dunlap's American Daily ADVERTISER, 1791-95.
Successor of Pennsylvania Packet.
Claypoole's American Daily ADVERTISER, 1796-99.
Continued as
Poulson's American Daily ADVERTISER, 1800-39.
Merged into North American.

The words "daily," "weekly," "Sunday" are in such lists commonly disregarded in alphabetization. In the present list, however, there have been disregarded also certain adjectives, such as "national," "independent," "general," "American," which have come to be common and not descriptive. But when the adjective truly qualifies and clearly indicates the character of the paper, it is not so disregarded.

On the other hand, the names of owners, publishers, or editors, carried for years at the head of the paper and becoming more widely known than any other part of the title, have been considered as truly descriptive. Thus the many publications issued by Frank Leslie have been arranged alphabetically under the publisher's name.

Appended, however, to the main list is an alphabetical index in which dictionary catalogue rules are strictly followed, the same paper frequently appearing in different places where the title contains more than one distinctive name.

The following qualifying words and others of similar character are disregarded in alphabetizing in the geographical arrangement:

"Daily," "weekly," "monthly," etc.

"American," "democratic," "federal," "republican," etc., when not truly descriptive.

Names of cities and states.

Names of editors when preceding title, except where long usage has made them a most important factor, as "NILES's Register," or when the remainder of the title is not distinctive, as "BEADLE's Weekly," "BALLOU's Pictorial."

The following qualifying words and all others of a similar character indicating a class distinction are considered in the alphabetization, and are printed in small capitals:

"Church," "Christian," "Religious," "Catholic," "Jewish," "Presbyterian," "Agricultural," "Farmers'," "Electrical," "Inventive," "Mercantile," "Mining," "Municipal," "Railroad," "Scientific," etc.

New York COMMERCIAL and Shipping and Commercial List and New York Price
Current. d.

Jan. 11, 1896-Dec. 31, 1900+ 13 v.

This paper was known as the New York
Shipping and Commercial List and New York
Price Current until Dec. 27, 1897. Jan. 3, 1898, the proprietors began the publication of a daily with the title "New York Commercial," retaining the former title as a subsidiary one.
To this the New York Commercial Advertiser objected and brought an injunction suit. A temporary injunction was granted by the courts, and from Jan. 10 to Feb. 28, 1898, the paper was issued under the title "Commercial America and Shipping and Commercial List and New York Price Current." The suit, however, was decided against the New York Commercial Advertiser, the injunction was dissolved, and Mar. 1, 1898, the paper resumed
the title "New York Commercial," etc.
